

Welcome Antoinette Breed

Apt. 435

I was born and grew up in beautiful Newport RI. After 2 years at Salve Regina College I dropped out to marry a young Ensign and move to Sasebo, Japan for 2 years. We then moved to Freeport Ill, splitting vacation time between Newport and Harbor Spring, Michigan.

In 1967 my husband left the family owned newspaper to become a reporter at the Providence Journal. That move gave me the opportunity to complete my undergraduate degree at URI and give birth to my daughter, Sabrina.

I've lived in Providence since then except for 4 months in Palo Alto, for my husband's Journalism Fellowship at Stanford. My son Tony was born in 1972. After my divorce in 1980 I advanced my Education, earning a B'Arch and BFA Architecture from RISD. After working for a few small firms, I started my own business, specializing in renovations and additions.

I used my skills extensively on my own house, which was large enough to convert to 2 townhouse dwelling units. I also became an obsessive gardener and landscaped my property with many flowering shrubs and trees. I've lived in that house on College Hill for 47 years. Now I look forward too leaving it for a serene life at wonderful Laurelmead.

In my single life I took up some adventure travel, sailing in the Windwood Islands, the Hawaiian Islands, and around Key West, and on a small ship in Glacier Bay, Alaska. I canoed in the Rio Grand River, Big Bend national park, and kayaked near Baja Mexico, and in rivers and ponds in New England. I hiked to huts in the White Mountains, and in the Canadian Rockies. Adventure travel also took me to Czech Republic, Vietnam, and Cuba.

I feel as if I have lived three distinct lives leaving one to move to the next. I look forward to a new life in the Laurelmead Community.
